Shiprock is composed of fractured volcanic breccia and black dikes of igneous rock called Minette, a type of lamprophyre. Age of rock: 27 million years old - Elevation: 7,177 Ft. - The peak is 7,178 above sea level and is at the center of three volcanic pressure ridges that pushed the rock skyward millennia ago. www.discovernavajo.com

National Navajo Code Talker Day to Become Official State Holiday

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

DOUG DUCEY

Governor Doug Ducey signed legislation making National Navajo Code Talkers Day a legal state holiday every year on August 14, honoring the courage of the Code Talkers and their critical role in the Allied victory of WWII.

"The Navajo Code Talkers are American heroes," said Governor Ducey. "They assisted on every major operation involving the U.S. Marines in the Pacific theatre, using their native language to come up with an unbreakable code. More than 400 Code Talkers answered the call to serve our nation, and Arizona is grateful for their dedication to protecting our nation. I'm proud to sign legislation that makes National Navajo Code Talkers day an official holiday, and I thank Senator Peshlakai for leading on this initiative."www.azgovernor.gov/governor/news

Oct 16, 2010 · Many Code Talkers have passed on, never knowing of the honors a grateful nation are now bestowed upon the remaining brothers. It was not until 1968 when the Navajo Code was declassified. The Navajo Code Talker Memorial was designed and executed by famed Navajo/Ute sculptor Oreland Joe. www.roadsideamerica.com
